Six new street lights will be added along Ninth Ave. between Eighth and Twenty-second Streets.

The City Commission authorized the additional lights this week and also agreed to ask the Southwestern Public Service Co. to replace the 12 existing lights along Ninth to a higher power at the rate the city is now paying.

The lights will be of the higher power. Each will cost $1.50 a month compared to the lower power's $1.25.

They will be installed at Eighth, Ninth, Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Eighteenth and Twenty-second Streets.

Some 291 street lights are in operation in Canyon.

Memorial Day Is Observed

A memorial tablet was dedicated in solemn Memorial Day ceremonies at Dreamland Cemetery yesterday.

The dedication was "To the Glory of God, and in loving memory of Charles R. Burrow and Dr. Robert A. Neblett on this day, May 30, 1962."

The memorial was accepted by Roy Whittenberg and was presented by Mrs. Burrow. The tablet is an open Bible, standing nearly four feet high with the words of the Lord's Prayer engraved on the granite face.

The services were in memory of veterans and other honored dead.

Explorer Scouts To Swarm Over Campus For Olympics

Explorer Scouts galore -- some 1,200 of them -- are expected to swarm over the West Texas State College campus for three days beginning tomorrow for the 1962 Explorer-Olympics.

They will come from West Texas, New Mexico and parts of Arizona as members of the West Range of Region Nine, Boy Scouts of America.

The Explorer-Olympics is an all-out competitive event for the councils of the West Range of Region Nine, as follows:

Adobe Walls, Pampa; Buffalo Trails, Midland; Conquistador, Roswell; Llano Estacado, Am-

Mayor Delbert E. Lowes and Lee Ruth Wiggins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wiggins, poke respective straws in glasses of milk and begin to suck away. Miss Wiggins is one of the beauties seeking the title of Panhandle Dairy Princess, who will be crowned here June 15 during "June is Dairy Month." More than 20 girls have entered the contest, expected to draw contestants from over the Panhandle. Richard Hales, contest chairman, says the entry deadline is June 9 and he should be contacted at either OL 5-3543 or P. O. Box 787 for further details.

County May Ask City To Lower Fire Call Fee

The Randall County commissioners discussed the possibility Monday of asking Canyon to lower its $100 fee for fighting fires outside the city limits.

Commissioner C. Y. Johnson of Precinct 4 raised the rate question in Commissioners' Court when he pointed out Canyon, Amarillo and Happy are paid $100 a call "but we supply the city with a fire truck."

"It seems like we are getting out of line," he said. "At least we are not very consistent, since we maintain a truck for the city."

County Auditor E. T. Cummings told the panel the county paid the city $6,300 for fire calls during the past 12 months.

Additionally, he said, $2,968 went for repairing and renovating the county's truck, which is operated by the Canyon Volunteer Fire Department.

Additional equipment is owned by the city.

Amarillo received $2,200 and Happy $300 during the same period, Cummings said.

"I suggest we treat them all alike," Johnson said.

The county and city are operating under a five-year contract but either has the right to terminate it upon 30 days notice.

"I don't have any hard and fast answer," Johnson said.

Work Plans Move Ahead For School

The Board of Trustees of the Canyon Independent School District agreed Tuesday night to advertise for bids under its $600,000 building program.

The board voted to go ahead with its original plans -- a new elementary school and renovation work at the Canyon Junior High School.

Just how much work can be done will be determined after the bids are received.

The elementary school will be connected with the present building.

Junior High plans call for removing the wooden barracks and replacing them with permanent structures. They now house the athletic dressing room, the band and music quarters, cafeteria, industrial arts and vocational classes.

The south gymnasium will be converted to a cafeteria and a kitchen erected next to it.

Architect Clayton Shiver of Amarillo met with the board.

The governing body also discussed -- but took no action -- on a replacement for Band Director Herman Demus, resigned.

He will continue in the school system in another post. The trustees hired two new teachers for Canyon High School, Mrs. Gordon Downing for English and James Wyatt for Science.

The First National Bank was designated as its depository agent for $585,000 of the bond money.

The bank will keep the money under investment until it is withdrawn for the building program.

The board also authorized the purchase of a new school bus.

West Texas Music Festival Is Slated Here July 15-27

Band directors from the state's two largest universities will participate in the tenth annual West Texas Music Camp here July 15-27.

They are Vincent De Nino, director of the University of Texas Longhorn Band, and James Matthews, who conducts the bands at the University of Houston.

The music camp -- billed as one of the state's largest -- will be held on the West Texas State College campus.

Dr. Ted Crager, director of WT bands as well as the camp, said more than 300 high school musicians are expected. They will receive two weeks of intensive training in band, choir, twirling and drum majoring.

Three college credit courses are offered for band directors. The enrollment deadline is June 15.

Conducting the Music Camp Choir will be Alvis M. Autrey, choral and opera director of the San Antonio Symphony.

He will be assisted by Dr. Houston Bright, director of choirs at WT.

Roundup Days Are Scheduled For Aug. 2-4

The Randall County Roundup and Old Settlers Reunion is scheduled Aug. 2-4.

It will be the third annual event, and officials figure this will be the biggest one yet.

A parade and bar-b-que are on tap for Aug. 2, a Thursday.

The Old Settlers Reunion is slated for Saturday.

The three rodeo performances will be held in the Randall County Sheriff's Posse Arena at West Texas State College. The stock will be furnished by the Ratjen Brothers of Happy.

The amateur rodeo participants will come from the Canyon area.

The chamber of commerce and civic organizations are sponsoring the bar-b-que.

Another Printing Ordered

By TROY MARTIN

Student interest in West Texas State College is increasing.

That was the report Huelyn Laycock, director of public information at WT, presented to the Chamber of Commerce board of directors this week.

Laycock, himself a member of the board, told the group it was necessary to order a second printing of the summer school catalog, so intense has been the interest.

Laycock pointed out course offerings for the first semester of summer school will be 29 percent greater than last year and 19 percent more during the second semester.

Canyon Chamber of Commerce has cooperated with the college in promoting summer school here.

The chamber paid for some advertising in a magazine of wide publication among teachers pointing out the merits of WT as a place to attend summer school.

The Chamber also participated in bringing high school principals and counselors here in the spring in an effort to promote attendance at West

First Wheat Harvested In County

Randall County harvested its first wheat of the year yesterday -- 335 bushels from the Charley Davis farm southeast of Umbarger.

Vince Ramaekers of the Umbarger Co-Op reported the moisture content at 14.60 and the test weight at 56 pounds.

The county's wheat crop, however, is expected to be less than half of the 1961 yield.

That was the prediction yesterday from John Brazzil, county agent, who attributed the sharp drop to:

1. Less bushels an acre because of the drought.
2. A some 30 per cent reduction in planted acres through the crop reduction program.

"The prospects for a good crop are poor," Brazzil said.

Additional harvesting in county fields is expected to be underway by Monday.

Brazzil predicted that dry-land acreage probably will yield only about 10 bushels an acre compared with 15-20 last year.

Irrigated land, however, should produce about 30 bushels against last year's 35-40.

The Wheat Control Office of the Texas Employment Commission reported hail damaged some wheat in Randall County.

The commission said a temporary farm placement office will be opened at the county agent's office in Claude with R. A. Williams in charge.

Randall Treasurer Job Is Contested

By WILLIAM PEART

Randall County Democrats will return to the polls Saturday and complete their statewide slate for the Nov. 6 general election.

County Republicans picked their ticket in the May 5 first primary and, consequently, will not hold a runoff.

Only one county post -- treasurer -- will be contested in Randall County.

Mrs. Ruth Hill, the incumbent who received 2,419 votes, opposes Claude Money, who ran second in a field of three with 1,508 ballots.

Top interest, of course, is in the gubernatorial race.

John B. Connally, President Kennedy's first Secretary of the Navy, faces Don Yarborough, the Houston attorney labeled the liberal candidate.

Connally ran first, Yarborough second in the first primary.

The former cabinet member from Fort Worth also led Yarborough in the county, 1,113 to 746. Marshall Formby of Plainview topped the field with 1,737 votes.

Four other posts are up for grabs in Randall.

Among them, the job of state representative of the 94th electoral district holds the spotlight.

Incumbent Ted B. Springer goes against J. M. "Red" Simpson. There have been charges and counter-charges from both office seekers.

Springer received 2,386 ballots compared with Simpson's 2,116. The other candidate, Marshall Sherwood, ran a weak third with 502.

The lieutenant governor's chair will also be voted on Saturday, with James A. (Jimmy) Turman of Fort Worth and Preston Smith of Lubbock seeking the post.

Turman is asking the electorate to promote him from speaker of the house. Smith is a state senator.

Ben Ramsey did not seek reelection.

Tom Reavley of Travis County and Waggoner Carr of Lubbock want the attorney general's job being vacated by Will Wilson, who made an unsuccessful bid for the gubernatorial nomination.

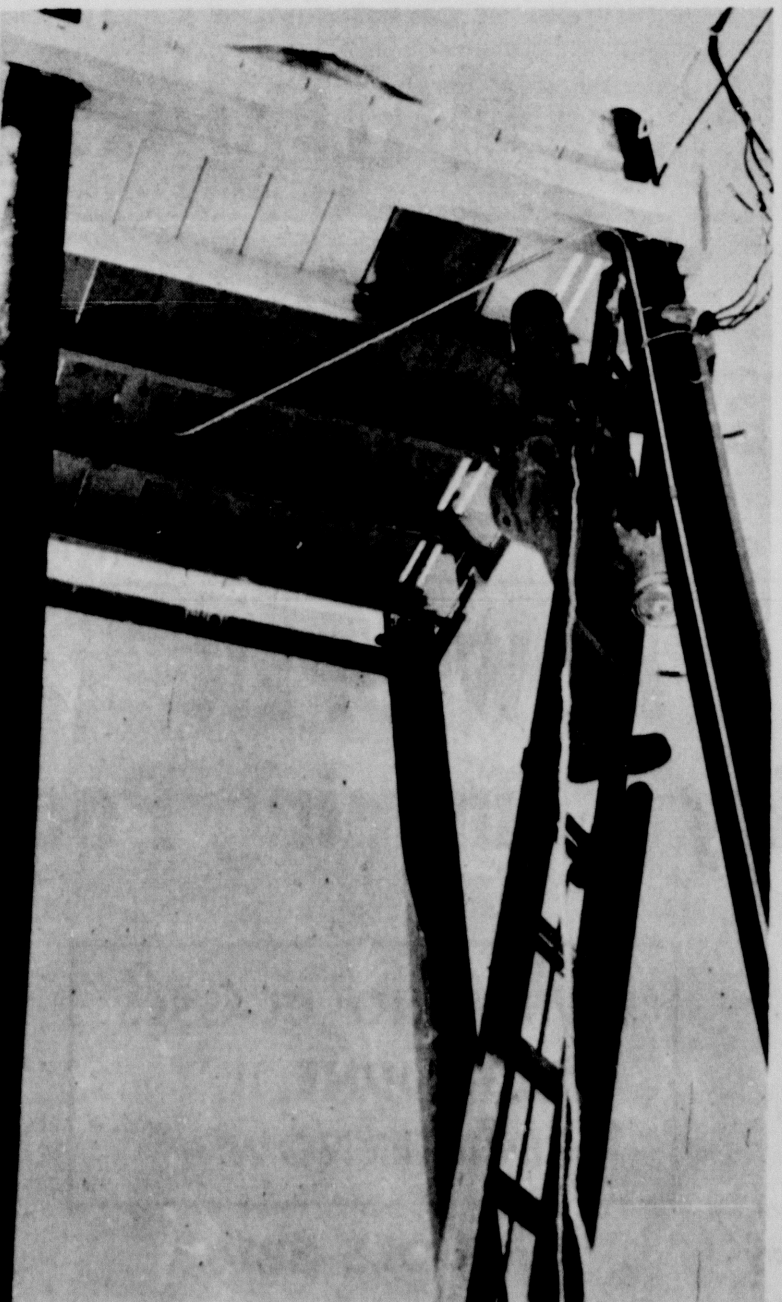

The other names on the county ballot are Joe Pool of Dallas and Woodrow Wilson Bean of El Paso, who are running for congressman-at-large.

The party lists 18 polling places in the county. All but one (See DEMOCRATS, Page 7)

by Troy Martin From The CANYON RIM

Kennedy's ambition to establish a line of succession is an open subject of conversation in the nation's capitol, according to reports we receive from friends returning from Washington, D.C.

With Ruthless Robert as attorney general and ipso facto secretary of state, the Kennedy family has the firmest grasp on the executive department in the annals of this nation's history.

If Ted Kennedy is named to the Senate, the twilight of this Republic will settle a little darker.

The President's truculence toward those who oppose him has been ample display of his determination to rule or ruin.

Mr. Kennedy openly has used the threat of economic sanctions against Congressmen who fail to go along with him.

A good example of the administration's will to rule is that of the farm program. The executive department says that if its farm bill is passed, farmers will have an opportunity to "decide for themselves" whether they want to go along with it.

In an already overt effort to influence such a "free election" the Department of Agriculture has hinted ominously that it will dump surplus farm commodities on the market and drive agriculture to the rocks.

—There are other examples. We think these are enough.

The President's bellicose attitude toward business has undermined confidence among those who produce this nation's plenty from farm to factory.

If Mr. President had called one man a dirty name we could have dismissed it as salty talk, but for the chief executive to refer in gutter language to a whole segment of the society he proposes to lead denotes a lack of morality and possibly something even more sinister.

Not even Franklin Roosevelt in his heyday dared ask for powers which our young President now nonchalantly demands -- the power to manipulate taxes and tariffs and others. The power to tax and tariff specifically are reserved to the people through their Congress.

The man who usurps these powers unto himself already has grasped the Imperial Purple. We hope the American people are not foolish enough to allow this to happen.

"Promise the people anything," said Lenin, father of the Red revolution in Russia. "The important thing is to come to power."

Don Yarborough has said he will back the Kennedy programs to the hilt if he is elected governor of Texas. If such a man becomes governor, the rights of Texas no longer will be even defended against the central authority but will be openly prostituted by the nominal head of the state household.

This is reason enough to keep us from casting a Yarborough vote Saturday.

The American Legion Magazine as long ago as 1953 predicted that the Communists would develop a propaganda line designed to smear those fighting them as extremists and fascists.

Those who fight Communism actively would be painted as "a greater threat to freedom than the Communists themselves," Legion Magazine predicted.

Does this have a familiar ring?

Clean-Up Week For City

(An Editorial)

Canyon has a name for being one of the cleanest cities in the state. We think this is a reputation worth guarding.

The annual Chamber of Commerce clean up campaign is under way. This year, it will be extended over a three-month period.

We hope the citizens of Canyon will cooperate during this campaign to make our clean city even cleaner. Not only are health and sanitation involved but also there is a matter of civic pride, which we believe is equally important.

We hope folks will not wait until the last week. "Clean up now" should be our motto. To paraphrase an old proverb: "If everyone would sweep in front of his own door, the whole city would be clean."

TWO MEN AND A HORSE

AVAILON-0 FEATURES

by Dr. J. A. Hill

Hilltop Views

Again we face election day and with it confusion confounded. It may well be doubted whether this country has experienced such political upheaval and chaos since pre-Civil War days. Millions of intelligent, patriotic American citizens are afloat at sea, politically speaking, not finding satisfactory anchorage in either of the two major parties. In fact, it is quite difficult, to be sure, just where or what either the Democratic or the Republican party is, or precisely what it stands for.

For example, look at the Republican picture for a moment. Mr. Goldwater, whose prototype was a Taft (it makes no difference which) is able, vociferous, ubiquitous, prejudiced, and sometimes both unfair and unwise, and is the strongest mouthpiece of Republican conservatism. He aspires to have charge of Republican political machinery; and to get it he seeks as many Democratic votes as he can corral. Is Goldwaterism the what and the where of the Republican Party?

Now look for a moment at another facet of the so-called Republican Party -- the Rockefeller facades. His public utterances and some of his administrative policies would make Franklin D. and John Kennedy look like Conservatives. Well, is that what and where the Republican Party is?

Then somewhere in between these extreme Republican Conservatives and extreme Liberals is Messrs. Eisenhower, Nixon, et al. For 8 years they had control of both the Republican Party machinery and our governmental machinery. Since they didn't even attempt to reverse any of the New Deal-Fair Deal policies and legislation, which they had loudly condemned as socialistic and ultra-liberal, but continued and amplified same, piling higher and higher the national debt and moving further toward centralism we can but conclude that they are more liberal than conservative. Is this what and where the Republican Party is?

In short, if I wanted to join the Republican Party, where would I tie in?

Now let's take a look at the Democrats. Generally speaking, they are thought of and called Liberals, but there are Conservative Democrats, ultra Conservative Democrats, and Reactionary Democrats. Then there are Liberals, ultra-Liberals, and according to some Republicans, Socialist Democrats. In Texas today if we vote a so-called Democratic ticket we must choose between one who is an avowed liberal, supported heartily by Union Labor, and one who calls himself a moderate. The Conservatives say he is too liberal and the Liberals say he is too conservative. What and where is the Democratic Party in Texas? Or, for that matter, in the U. S.?

Besides the two major party organizations, which are split horizontally, perpendicularly and cross-wise, there are splinters of several varieties. One of them does not even believe in the American political system.

This situation makes voting intelligently difficult and causes many people not to vote at all. How is one going to have a positive preference in a situation like the one we face next Saturday? And next Saturday is typical. Not since Woodrow Wilson has this columnist had a chance to vote for someone for president that he thought could really do the job.

This situation is unfortunate. It damages our national morale. It weakens our voice before a world that gravely needs leadership toward enlightened freedom. It hurts our confidence in ourselves and respect abroad for our American political system.

Is such a condition to be perpetual? Are we always, when we go to the polls, to face a choice between two non-desirables? Are there no more Henry Clays who would "rather be right than President," or Governor, or Senator, or a member of the legislature?

Frankly, I don't know the answer. I don't know the solution to the above situation. But somebody better be finding one.

Your Better Hearing

Many people are very concerned and self-conscious about having wax in their ears. Actually, they should be concerned only if there is none. The wax serves a very vital function in that it helps keep small foreign objects contained and away from the ear drum.

When a particle of dust, pollen, small insect or some other foreign matter comes into the ear canal, it is caught in the wax secreted by certain glands in the ear canal.

As this wax begins to collect, small hairs in the ear canal work together to move the wax in which is trapped many small objects. The best way to depict this activity of the small hairs is to visualize several hundred workers passing boxes of goods from one to another over their heads.

The purpose of the hairs, then, is to move the wax slowly out of the ear canal. This is a natural activity and seldom needs to be furthered by outside help.

It is possible that the foreign matter can become embedded in the ear canal of one who does not have adequate secretion of wax. This can cause infection or irritation.

It is a poor policy to attempt to remove this wax by digging at it with the little finger.

Just Sort Of...

I figure the water Canyon pumps is selective.

It has an annoying habit of shrinking my shirt collars.

And my pants waist, too. It doesn't tamper with my handkerchief squares.

Or my socks, either.

It's just determined to monkey around with those first two numbers.

Mary Jean doesn't agree. Neither does Elliott.

"Honey," I said the other night, as I ladled another round of cream gravy over a batch of out-of-the-box biscuits, "you don't think I'm -- uh -- stacking on an extra pound or so -- do you?"

Mary Jean fiddled with her lettuce and answered: "Well, Bill, your face does seem like it's getting a -- little -- rounder -- maybe?"

"What?" I said. "My ties still fit. Perfectly."

"Well, Bill, you asked me. And I just told you. You don't really want my opinion. I just won't say anything more."

"Daddy?"

"Yes, son."

"You sure had a hard time with your button this morning."

"You keep out of this, Elliott. I asked your mother a question, not you."

"Well, Okay, daddy."

They've got no way of measuring my weight. The scales are stored in Dallas.

If it's not the washing water, then it's Mary Jean's responsibility to keep me trim and fit. I read a piece in some paper the other day that said so.

Before I came to Canyon, my meals were either served by some airline or in a hotel restaurant that didn't suit my temper.

Consequently, my calorie count was down -- if involuntarily.

But since we've been here, Mary Jean has been mixing up food things that are -- well, just sort of stuff not easy to say no to.

You know, pies and casserole dishes and -- well, if it's caloric, we've had it.

In Dallas -- at least the times I was home -- those temptations weren't around our house. I've gazed at -- and munched on -- more doughnuts in the past three months than I have since I left Bolton High School.

Mother was kind of big on things sweet.

Last night, I rather timidly asked Mary Jean not to be buying those things prone to get my stomach out of shape.

"But, Bill," she answered, "we've got to have cookies and things around the house for Elliott and his friends."

"Now listen here, Mary Jean," I began -- but she had walked out of the kitchen.

And before I could even offer her a spoonful of the banana custard I was brewing on the stove.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

As there is hardly ever any letters in The Canyon News, I thought I may start hell to popping.

Now as to brains and education, I am very shy on them. I would like to know where you conservatives stand. One says one thing and one another.

Goldwater and Howard Smith were opposed to the Peace Corps. Now both of them are for it. And The Amarillo Globe last week stated Goldwater's son wanted to join them.

I wonder if he wants a job in Kennedy's cabinet.

Goldwater says Robert Kennedy is a real salesman for America abroad. Little John Tower says he is not qualified and of all things, little John is back in Texas to blast medical care for the old under social security, with Blue Cross paying his expenses.

I am wondering what you and Izzard and Louise Evans will say to that.

I know what all three of you would say if Ralph Yarborough came to Dallas to speak with the AFL-CIO paying his expenses.

All hell would break loose because you editors like to point to a candidate that a working man votes for as a liberal labor candidate but you never point to one that big business backs as a labor hating candidate.

Walker-Formby-Haley continued to give Kennedy hell and all took a good beating. Now the Amarillo paper says Connally is a conservative since he is top man. Before that Lyndon Johnson had handpicked him.

Now Tower says that both candidates are new frontiersmen and Cox will be the next governor. I wonder how many are dumb enough to believe that cocky statement.

However, that's the only kind Tower ever makes. He was going to win the Senate race without a runoff but he did not. If Maverick, Wilson and Gonzales had stayed out of that race Jim Wright would be senator.

When it is all said and done, who is Tower? A little assistant professor at $5,000 a year. Lots of working people make more than that.

I have always heard you should send men to Congress and Senate that have done something. He sure did not. Oh, yes, he did. He married into the Bullington Oil money.

I read in the Amarillo paper he voted for Truman in 1948. I never saw where he denied it. I never voted for a Democrat president until I voted for Kennedy and I will do so again. There is to many birchers in the GOP and a lot of Republicans wish they were not.

I admire Nixon for saying get out of the GOP to the Birchers. However the more we hear of them and Tower-Goldwater the better Kennedy's chances are in 1964 even the anti-Kennedy US News and World Report admits Goldwater is not very strong. All they do is give Roosevelt, Truman - Kennedy hell. But they had 8 years to repeal those bad laws, such as bank deposits - social security - F.H.A. - Wagoner Labor act - wage and hours - minimum wage - with holding tax.

They did not attempt it for they know we dont want to go back 30 years ago with 30 cent wheat 2 1/2 cent hogs and millions hungry.

You had conservatives in power when the crash came and for 3 1/2 years they left people go hungry - lose their farms and homes, and a lot of big wheels in industry and begged F.D.R. for help then when they went to making money they holstered socialism, you big boys who hate Kennedy don't forget that Ike had 13 billion deficit in one year and when Kennedy passes that mark in one year I will holler then.

You holler taxes are ruining people maybe so. But where is all these high priced homes $20,000 to $45,000 coming from and all these new cars. You did not see them 30 years ago. Nobody made enough money to pay taxes.

The insurance companies are trying to get awful good to the old since they see the hand writing on the wall. They use to kick out the old folk.

I know their medical Doctor in Omaha Nebraska figured two bad risk in our family and the policies were canceled. I was told they could not be canceled, but the fine print said they could so I am bitter at insurance.

I lost over $200.00 in the Estate Life after they were broke. They told me my insurance was good and to keep up my payments I did until the state wrote me to send no more money to them. Out of $231.00 paid in I received back $24.00 and no insurance.

I was took for another ride in January on a back injury that will never be well. I got $350.00 and lost a job. So while you editors can only see bad in Kennedy I say let free enterprise sweep away from their own door.

They exploited labor and the public from the beginning of time they are the cause of all these socialist reforms. If all industry treated their employees like Sears and Lincoln Electric they would not be any trouble with labor.

I painted cars for General Motors and I know what I am talking about. Sears employees don't have to worry about facing old age with just a social security check. They are treated like a human should be and they are proud they work for Sears for they feel like one of the company which they are. The way to labor peace is to share profits and not slave driving at the lowest wage. Now I am going to make some predictions: Connally will take Jack Cox to the cleaners in November.

If the social security bill for medical care comes out for Congress to vote on it will pass for Congress don't have the guts to vote against it. Kennedy will be relected in 1964 and little John Tower will be badly beat in 1966. He is to cocky for his own good.

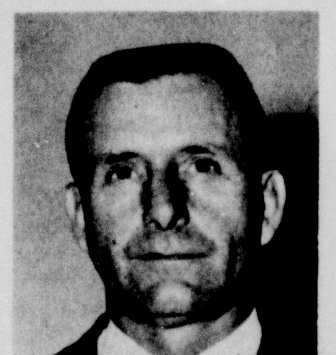

In closing I will say I don't like conservatives or liberals. A conservative thinks only his own pocket book to bleed labor for all he can.

I like a moderate like Sam Rayburn. Kennedy was right when he knocked U. S. Steel ears down. They had too much power over the whole country as well as the other steel companies. They are the mouth piece for the whole industry when they get to the bargaining table.

All the automobile companies settle their own disputes separately. General Motors don't speak for them. But in steel all lever read is Rodger Elough. How about cutting his salary to $150,000 he gets $300,000. No man on the face of God's earth is worth that much.

Yours truly,
James L. Hancock, Canyon PS How about giving us some editorials I hear complaints on your paper about no editorials. I go along 99 per cent with Dr. Hill's column. Give us both sides not just anti Kennedy stuff of them are the same as in the first primary.

Precinct 13 was moved from the West Texas State College field house to the Fine Arts Building.
Voting machines will again be used in most precincts.
Officials pointed out the machine procedure is simple.
The voter enters the booth, pulls a lever to close the curtains, pushes a switch for each of his candidates.
Then he registers the curtain lever, which reverses his vote and opens the curtains.
Some officials contend the first primary balloting was light because many voters hesitated to use the voting machines.
They were used for the first time in the May 5 primary.

Pool Pipe Pops

An underground pipe popped at the city swimming pool Tuesday but City Manager Bill York said the damage was minor.
Business was continued as usual, York said.

Superintendent Henry Niten-gale of the Water and Sewer Department told the commissioners his plant is operating more efficiently now than it was a year ago.
The city's governing body also rejected a request from Tommy Hunter for the city to buy aluminum pipe to dispose of more effluent from the lagoon at the treatment plant.
The commissioners delayed action on an inquiry to close Seventh Street between Fifth and Sixth Avenues. Further action, they agreed, will follow a formal request from the Board of Trustees of the Canyon Independent School District.
The Panel also:
1. Considered but took no action on a request to relocate the bus stop in front of the Buffalo Food Store.
2. Renewed a contract with the Canyon Jaycees for holiday flag service in the business areas.
3. Approved a sewer line payback agreement with Bill Money.
4. Discussed a proposed ordinance regarding keeping animals in the city limits.
5. Took no action on a private firm's request that be allowed to erect litter receptacles in downtown Canyon, with merchants underwriting the cost through advertising on the sides.

The Rev. John Lars Hamer-son, minister of the First Presbyterian Church, delivered the prayer, to the some 300 persons in attendance.
The stone edifice is approximately 18 feet long and greenery is planted on either side.

The Chamber also was active with college officials in staging an industrial arts fair. Laycock said he believes this has helped to stimulate interest in the school.
In other business, the board of directors heard reports from the Agriculture Committee and from the Community Development Committee.
The Agriculture Committee currently is promoting the Dairy Princess festival here next month. It is headed by R. B. Gist, Jr., and is made up of John Brazzil, E. M. Myers and Lewis Tuck.
The Community Development Committee is in the process of promoting a cleanup campaign in Canyon.
The board voted to buy a quarter-page advertisement in the August issue of Texas Parade in which this area will be featured as a part of the "Cornado Country."
The ad will be purchased by the Industrial Development Committee, headed by Joe Giddens. It is designed to come to the attention of business and industrial men.

Pete Cowart reported on a meeting of Highway 60 Association which he attended recently in California.

Cowart said slides have been prepared to show automobile and tourist clubs in eastern and northern cities. They show points of interest along the route and include pictures of Canyon, Buffalo Lake, Boys Ranch and Palo Duro Canyon.

Among the out of town visitors in the Ray C. Wells home recently were: Mr. and Mrs. Ed Well, Mike and Gail, of Pampa; Mr. and Mrs. Don Wells, Scotty and Lea Ann, of Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wells of Shamrock; Mrs. J. G. A variety show featuring the 589 Air Force Band from the Amarillo Air Force Base will be presented in the WT auditorium Saturday night.
In addition, each council is invited to present a musical act. A trophy will go to the winning act.
The medals and trophies will be presented at an awards ceremony just before lunch on Sunday. It will follow church services.
Participating will be Dr. James P. Cornette, WT president; William F. McCurdy, vice president of the Sears-Roebuck Foundation; John Lott, West Range Explorer chairman; and Harold W. Lewman, regional executive of Region Nine.
The Jody Drill team will appear on the program.

Johnson also raised the possibility of the city's buying the truck.

"I would hate to see us sell that truck," Commissioner Clarence Beckman of Precinct 2 said. "I think we have a good piece of equipment there, and I would hate to see us lose it."
The commissioners also discussed the feasibility of having the sheriff's department operating the truck, even if another deputy had to be hired.
"I think we can make a proposition to the city," Dowlen said.

The commissioners have taken no action on the volunteers' offer earlier this month to paint the county truck -- now three shades of red -- at their expense.

In other action, the commissioners accepted a low bid of $10,759 from Gilvin and Terrell of Amarillo for road improvements in Precinct 1.

The work is expected to begin next month and be completed in a week.

The court also authorized the county clerk's office to hire a parttime employee during vacation periods.

Junior high students will participate in a Junior High Band, and a Reading Band, composed of volunteers from high school and college musicians, will read and demonstrate new materials.
The camp choir will rehearse twice daily. Special baton, twirling, and drum majoring classes will be offered by Woods and his staff.
Private lessons, section instruction, small ensembles, classes, and recreation activities are planned for students.

All that is accomplished is that this wax is pushed further back into the canal and may be packed up against the ear drum. This results in a self-induced hearing loss.

Another problem that ear specialists find all too often is that of objects being placed in the ear.

Doctors have been called at all hours to remove such items as marbles, gum, peanuts, mud, olives and numerous other curious objects from ears.

Children are the greatest offenders in placing objects in the ear, but that is not always the case.

I heard of a man who had the rounded end of a pencil removed by a doctor. He had been poking it in his ear and the end came off.

Your and your child should be warned against placing any object in or near the ear where it can get embedded. This leads to a restatement of a policy I suggested last week: "Don't put anything smaller than your elbow in your ear."

Next week, we will consider some of the miracles and misconceptions of surgery on the ears.

Hinger Wins Rifle Medal

Craig Hinger of Canyon, a West Texas State College student, received a silver medal at award ceremonies in Borger last week signifying his marksmanship in the High Plains League.

His award in the sharpshooter class, iron sight, was for his aggregate score of 377.17.

Another WT student, Gary Balzer of Perryton, also took a silver medal. He won for his aggregate score of 383.09 in the master class, iron sight.

The ROTC unit at the college, won three matches and lost nine during the season, ending up in the league cellar.

Major Carroll S. Meek has served two terms as president of the league since it was organized three years ago.

Farmer - Rancher Finds

Profit In Mobile Telephone

YOUR TELEPHONE ON WHEELS

Today's busy farmer, rancher, or stockman is a man on the move. Modern trucks and cars have solved his transportation problem and often times his car becomes his office on wheels. But every agricultural businessman knows his telephone is a necessity.

Dale Martin, owner of the Tierra Blanca Stock Farm in Canyon solved his communications problems by installing a Bell System Mobile Telephone in his car. Dale Martin is on the move a lot -- but he's never out of touch with his office, home or any of the livestock markets and buyers. Wherever he goes by car -- his telephone is available -- and he'll tell you -- he uses it.

SERVICE AVAILABLE TO EVERYONE

Here's telephone service adapted to your needs, too. It can be installed in any truck or car (including all compacts) and Mobile Telephone Service is fast, efficient, easy to use.

A REAL TELEPHONE -- NOT 2-WAY RADIO

A Mobile Telephone is a "telephone on wheels" not a point-to-point radio system. You can make and receive all kinds of telephone calls -- local calls, Long Distance calls, even overseas calls. Reception is loud and clear at both ends of the conversation. And, best of all special signals can be installed to let you know if a call is coming in when you are away from your car.

REASONABLE COST, NO CAPITAL INVESTMENT, NO ADDED MAINTENANCE COST

You pay a small installation charge plus a monthly service charge which includes all maintenance. A skilled team of telephone company technicians will install and maintain your Mobile Telephone.

So don't wish for an office on wheels -- put wheels on your office with a Mobile Telephone. Call the telephone company business office in Canyon at OL 5-2151 and ask about Mobile Telephone Service.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

Cards Whip Pirates, 18-8

The Babe Ruth League Pirates fell behind after three innings Saturday, losing to the Cardinals, 18-8.

The Pirates managed eight runs off seven hits in the first three stanzas -- before fielding troubles developed.

David Rossi, the starting pitcher, then wilted with spotty support. He looked strong and poised in the opening innings.

Jimmy Johnson, who allowed eight taps in all, got credit for the victory. The Cardinals gathered 12 hits.

Jim Callarman, Gary Winters, Randy Brown and Chris Byerley each hit successive blows in the fourth. Johnson and Winters did it again in the fifth.

Winters, as dangerous at bat as on the mound, powered his second home run of the season in the third.

Boat Corrosion

When you take your boat out of the water, for storage, turn it bottom side up and clean it thoroughly.

Let the boat dry, then sponge a wet coat of liquid floor wax over it to prevent darkening and corrosion.

Winn Credited With Team Win

Bruce Winn won his second game of the season for the Babe Ruth League Giants Saturday as his team downed the White Sox, 12-4.

Both teams garnered the same number of hits -- four -- but the Giants did the better job of finding their way home.

Don Howard was the losing pitcher.

Jack Stephens and Daryl Yarbrough were big in the bat department and the winning pitcher knocked a single.

Lair Throws Two-Hitter

The Babe Ruth League Cardinals whipped the Giants, 5-3 Monday behind the two-hit pitching of Tom Lair.

Chris Byerley, the Cardinals' second sacker, was credited with the fielding gem of the young season when he robbed Bill Long of what looked like a certain single in the third inning.

Clifford Sherrod, who gave up only four hits, pitched superb ball and his team backed him up with a pair of fine double plays.

Lair bore down under pressure and remained in command of the ball game with the help of key plays in the field.

Gary Winters again carried a big bat, counting two hits in four times at the plate.

Long played one of his best games for the Giants, behind the plate and at bat.

The Giants were lured into wild swinging in the bottom of the seventh and Lair pocketed his second win of the season.

Clubs' Tourny Opens Saturday

The Canyon City Club's scotch foursome tournament -- 36 holes of medal play -- will open Saturday.

John Whinnery said players will select their own partners, their handicaps will be totaled and the foursome receive 80 per cent of it.

The entry fee is $4.00 a team. Whinnery also reminded the club holds a putting tournament each Friday night at 8 o'clock. "The ladies are cordially invited," he added. "Bring your friends. Partners will be drawn."

CANYON, TEXAS

More than 40 horsemen of the Randall County Sheriff's posse left the Earl Reynolds ranch last Saturday afternoon for their first summer trail ride to Palo Duro Canyon State Park. Wives and children of the possemen were included in the group's trail trip, which ended at the Cottonwood grove. Others met them there with food and supplies for an overnight stay. Sunday morning services were conducted by Charles Smallwood and then guided rides were made into various areas of the canyon. Outdoor cooking was the order of the day Sunday and more than 70 persons shared in a steak dinner before they returned to the Reynolds ranch. Other trail rides -- a favorite pastime of the Sheriff's Posse--are planned during the summer, including one to Hereford for the annual rodeo. The posse has also been invited to Claude June 11 to appear in a sequence of "Hud Bannon," now being filmed there.

April Bond Sales Noted

Savings bond sales in Randall County last month reached $11,643, Chairman Don E. Standley of the County Savings Bonds Committee reported yesterday. Cumulative sales since January 1 are $81,824 against a 1962 goal of $360,000. That's exactly 22.7 per cent of the drive figure.

"The U. S. Treasury's current Freedom Bond Drive is being well received throughout Texas," Standley pointed out, adding:

"Citizens of the Lone Star State realize that their purchases of U. S. savings bonds are a tangible contribution to the economic and defensive strength of our nation."

"In these trying times it is important that everyone do his part in keeping our country free. Buying an extra bond during the Freedom Drive helps the Treasury meet the mounting costs of keeping the peace."

It was 100 years ago that President Lincoln signed the Act of Congress establishing the Department of Agriculture. Not long after, the Homestead Act opened the great interior of the nation to settlement, and the Morrill Act created our system of land grant colleges.

"June is Dairy Month" will be a popular slogan again this year. Canyon and Randall County dairymen are going all out to make this a special month in many ways. The big feature of dairy month will be the "Panhandle Princess Contest" scheduled for the Canyon High School Auditorium on June 15.

Richmond Hales, Cristler Crain, dairymen members of the North Texas Milk Producers' Association, The Canyon Chamber of Commerce are making plans to make this a Panhandle wide event.

The first prize is a $200 scholarship. A second and third prize will be awarded. Richmond Hales is taking applications for the contest. Girls, here is your chance. Line up a sponsor and give Richmond a Call to make your entry.

At the State Convention of the AFL/CIO in the Fall of 1960, a resolution was passed recommending legislation on a state-wide Personal Income Tax as a means of providing sufficient revenue to erase the state deficit. All legislators representing the Union leaders were charged with supporting such legislation. As ringleader of the 'Beaumont Bloc', the task fell to Rep. Bob Eckhardt of Houston, who authored the Eckhardt Income Tax Amendment.

Mrs. Harper Tells What Makes A City Great, An Area Famous

(The following is a speech by Mrs. Ples Harper to the Downtown Rotary Club in Amarillo.)

It is my privilege to be here today because I happen to be the President of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation.

As you know this organization was founded to build a theater in the Palo Duro Canyon, for a great play about the history of the Texas Panhandle. This play will be in the form of a symphonic drama: an outdoor spectacle which is called "symphonic" because it uses all the arts.

It has the gripping characters of a fine play, and the motion and color of a great pageant. As you know by now, Paul Green who is working on it with us, originated this kind of entertainment and is the master of it.

The first such show which he created is still playing 60 nights a summer on a lonely island off the coast of North Carolina, and has been playing for twenty-one years on this schedule to packed houses even though it is far from usual travel routes.

Since the papers have been so generous with their space and have described the project so fully, I won't take time to go farther into it now because

I want to introduce another theme.

I want to talk today on the theme: "What makes a city great? What makes an area famous?"

We know the obvious answers of course: a fortunate location near one of the great trade routes of the world making a long and interesting history and great size; manufacturing near sources of power like Pittsburgh; company towns organized for specific spectacular purposes like Los Alamos; capitols and locations of famous schools like Oxford.

Now let us consider famous places which do not have such obvious historical or geographical advantages.

Once heard a person of great distinction say that the way to become famous is to attempt something which seems impossible and which isn't understood and to fight for that thing. He happened to be the builder of the first metal airplane and his life was an example of this principle. Perhaps this rule would apply to geographical areas.

Let's look at some examples: Disneyland -- and people really knew that Walt Disney made a mistake here until it opened.

Sun Valley -- built by the Northern Pacific to fill an entertainment need and incidentally solve some financial problems.

Oberammergau, Germany. Stratford, Canada. Lawton, Oklahoma. Shamrock, Texas. Seattle, Washington.

Let us examine the causes of fame of each of these places. In each one, someone conceived a distinctive kind of entertainment. He used his own money or persuaded the State, or persuaded his neighbors that it would be interesting to everyone, and they combined their efforts to make such a beautiful production that the world was attracted to it.

In each case there was logical reason for selecting the spot. Mr. Disney chose one near the home of the cartoons. Sun Valley has the sun heat on sheltered snow.

The Oberammergau tradition of the passion play produced every ten years has lasted for generations, and incidentally this world-famous village has 4800 people.

Lawton, Oklahoma, conceived that each city in its neighborhood would contribute a scene to make a great outdoor story of Easter.

It was Stratford, Canada's name which led the inhabitants to visualize and create the finest Shakespearean on this continent (or even in the world).

It was our neighbor's name of Shamrock, Texas, which inspired the people to transplant a little of Ireland to the Panhandle for a celebration which attracted more than 20,000 people this year.

Seattle is the most remarkable of all. For no particular reason the people of Seattle seized the leadership of the world in expressing the Space Age in a fair, and the name of the city is on every lip.

They planned to sell 250,000 admissions in advance to meet certain expenses and had orders for 3,000,000! Seattle has just about four times as many people as Amarillo.

Using distinguished entertainment as one of the best ways to become recognized is a proven device.

The Indians in Cherokee, N.C., knew this. They were living in the Northwest part of the State far from the capitol. They had no good roads and received little attention from the government. Like the Panhandle, they may have even threatened to secede.

Then they had a better idea. Six counties formed an association to do something in Cherokee, N.C., so spectacular that North Carolina could no longer ignore them.

They organized, and in the minutes of their first meeting, they entered the purpose: "to produce a drama like the Lost Colony" (The moving Paul Green show which had been playing then for eleven years on the East coast of North Carolina.)

After many delays they did just that and now, eleven years later it has accomplished everything they wished and more. Now some of the finest highways in the South go past their door.

The main street of Cherokee was the length of Umbarger's ten years ago. Now it is six miles long. Cherokee is on the map! And it is there because the people realized that their story, properly presented in the form which the Lost Colony had tested, would touch people so deeply that they would come from everywhere to see it.

In its first ten years, the Cherokee story, Unto These Hills, paid over a million dollars in salaries to the Indians alone.

We are at a turning point in the Panhandle. We are large, but not the largest.

We have a wonderful place to live and we are growing, but how wonderful a place is not widely known. Now we have an opportunity to make a choice.

Are we just to be another town our size?

Or will we join with the area to underline distinguishing characteristics which we can underline to become unique and known for some kind of distinguished, unusual entertainment?

Obviously the Palo Duro Canyon and the history centered there, the great gateway to the Caprock, is our opportunity. And a magnificent play pointing up these factors is our plan. Plans like these are not easy to understand. In most places they are made by the States.

There are two theaters in Kentucky now in parks which are vacant because the governor is trying to persuade Mr. Paul Green to write plays for them instead of putting his next year's effort on the drama for the Palo Duro Canyon.

When the Board of Directors of the T.P.H.F. discussed ways of financing a great play in the Canyon with Paul Green, they said the Panhandle did not need to wait for state planning and did not need to enter into politics to accomplish something on this scale.

They felt that we are energetic enough and well-to-do enough in the Panhandle to show that creative projects, huge ones, can be done by local initiative.

The next two weeks of our campaign will show whether or not the members of the Board were right.

To be a possibility, a vision of this size demands the support of everyone who can see its value, not only in financing it originally but in shaping its development.

When this play is a reality, its success will be in the hands of everyone who encounters the travelers: every clerk in a store, every waitress in a restaurant, every boy in a filling station.

Its success depends on everyone here.

They say that the Lions enjoy a town, the Kiwanians manage it, and the Rotarians own it.

If this is true, you are in a position to help many people see that they have a stake in this project.

Encourage them to put money in now, to send in ideas and to see that everyone they touch knows about it when it is running.

I want to close by saying that any great project creates its own problems of course, but it also solves some: When people from all over the world enjoy our gorgeous summer weather in an outdoor theater, the false weather image will fade away.

When tourists stay over an extra day to see the show there will be summer jobs for teenagers, and incidentally the show itself will have a payroll of more than a hundred people and additional teenagers will park cars, sell concessions, usher, clean up, etc.

When we have some exciting entertainment to advertise, the tourist trade in Texas, which fell from 10.3 million in 1957 to 8.6 million in 1961 will be drawn back into the Panhandle.

(Incidentally, Palo Duro Park has bucked this trend. 95,000 people entered in 1957, 150,000 in 1961.)

There is nothing within 500 miles of us so exciting that tourist would plan an overnight stop especially for it, so we have no competition for this project.

Soon someone will be coming to you with a pledge card to ask for help in creating this play and theater.

When he does, think what it will mean to you and your family to have in existence a great drama which will enable you to live for two hours in the past and experience the trials and galeties and exaltations of the men and women who opened up this land of the wide horizon and the high sky.

Then think what it will mean to have such a play at our door: not in Fort Worth, not in Lubbock, but in the Palo Duro Canyon to employ our youngsters, to hold our tourists, to change the concept of our weather.

Most great artistic endeavors are the result of government action, of the generosity of a far-seeing patron. Let us prove here that an area can be far-seeing enough to create something noble too.

The Polk Street "Kingmakers" At It Again!

Shades of Jerry Lee

Six years ago the wealthy, big-business Polk street "Kingmakers" ... bankers, major oil and gas companies ... began trying to defeat the people's representative, Ted Springer. First one unsuccessful candidate; then last time Jerry Lee; now another hoped-for "yes" man candidate to represent them ... not the majority of the people. They're up to the same old unsuccessful tricks ... presenting a campaign of vilification and slander.

ALWAYS AGAINST TED / NEVER A PLATFORM

Still trying to plant their
"yes" man
in Austin

Through all the years, until last week, the "Kingmakers" have never had a platform or program for the benefit of the people of Texas. Last week they borrowed the major part of Ted's platform and adopted it for their candidate. Ted has in the past consistently opposed the sales tax and auto insurance merit rating plan. Now at this late hour they want their candidate to express a desire for "revision" of these measures. Any device to plant their puppet, complete with telephone strings attached, in the House of Representatives.

SPRINGER A STUMBLING BLOCK TO "KINGMAKERS"

Ted has helped small business men,
farmers, ranchers
and the majority of the citizens of this district

Ted's six-year record is well known. He has accomplished much for the district, much for all the people, including the ones so bitterly determined to remove him. But Ted won't jump when they snap the whip. They want a man who will.

TED CONTINUES FIGHT AGAINST GENERAL SALES TAX AND FOR REVISION OF AUTO INSURANCE MERIT RATING PLAN

The General Sales Tax, which Ted opposed from the beginning ... and which the "Kingmakers" put on the backs of the people of Texas to keep from paying their fair share of the taxes ... needs revising so as to be much less of a burden to the small business man, farmers and consumers. Ted will continue to fight for this revision, not merely claim to fight for it.

The Auto Insurance Merit Rating Plan is a ghastly unfair plan, causing untold court expense, untold delay, untold increase in the cost of insurance to many automobile owners. Ted has in the past and will continue to fight for revision of this monstrosity. Ted is experienced, dedicated, influential. One vote ... your vote ... can protect you from a take-over by the Polk Street "Kingmakers."

Opening Is 27 Years Away

By ROGER McWATERS

The not-so-old-timers in Canyon can remember back to 23 summers ago when a pioneer monument was placed on the northeast corner of the courthouse lawn.

It'll still be 27 more years before the sealed unit is opened. But when it is, the folks who gather around will see several hunks of history.

Special newspaper editions -- including The Canyon News, The Prairie and The Eagle's Tale -- were placed in the copper depository.

The vault also contains a complete history of the Palo Duro Post of the American Legion, which sponsored the construction of the monument.

It holds a clothing style book and a white carnation sent by a pioneer unable to attend the celebration which attracted thousands of persons from 21 states and even another continent.

The Legion fed bar-b-que to 15,000 persons. More than 4,000 persons signed the registration book, which is also in the hermetically sealed monument.

It contains personal letters, pictures and information about West Texas State College.

The monument was "erected and dedicated to the pioneers and founders of Canyon and Randall County."

Ray Campbell was post commander at the time of the celebration in observance of the 50th anniversary of the founding of Canyon.

The Canyon News wants your news for its readers. Telephone OL5-2141, or stop by the News office.

This monument on the courthouse lawn will be opened in 1989. --Staff Photo

Soil Week Observed Over Randall County

By WALTER G. HOWARD

SOIL CONSERVATION

We have again observed Soil Stewardship Week May 27-June 3. This is an annual observance which embodies the principles of stewardship of water and other natural resources as well as the soil. Emphasis was placed on Stewardship in the messages from the pulpit throughout the nation's churches during this week.

The emphasis was essentially that the basic motivation for the orderly conservation and development of natural resources is man's recognition of his responsibility under God to protect and use wisely His precious gifts of soil and water. As men join forces for the attainment of their common goals, they are learning that soil stewardship and water stewardship are inseparable.

We often hear that "water is life" but by itself this is surely and inadequate truth. While it is clear we cannot live without water, the further fact is we are only now learning to live with it. It is more than an accommodation; it is a wealth to be nurtured and prized.

Some of the people but not all, have learned that demands on our limited resources are increasing and that requirements for its management and its serviceability are becoming ever more complex and costly. We must learn to multiply water's uses, build controls on its movements and reservoirs for its storage. We must learn to use it without waste and hold it with out pollution. We may foolishly neglect it for a time to our own certain misfortune but we can neither ignore it or leave it.

Those in control of the soil and watersheds on which water falls as rain have the first opportunity and obligation for stewardship. The soil is the greatest reservoir of all and its stewards know well the gamble in any slackening of their attention to the land. Weakly protected areas lose precious topsoil as well as the life-giving water itself with each driving rain. And downstream the wasted, unmanaged waters compound the loss in the form of floods. Can we see a continent of watersheds and rivers
